The International Acquiring Forum is Now the Global Acquiring Conference

Thomas Layman, President of Global Vision Group and Linda Perry, payments consultant, announce the premier electronic payments industry event for 2015 -- the Global Acquiring Conference -- International Acquiring: The New Frontier.

San Francisco, USA and London UK -- Global Vision Group, a payments consulting company, and payments industry veteran Linda S. Perry, today announced that the second Global Acquiring Conference (GAC) (formerly known as the International Acquiring Forum), will take place in London, UK, 5-7 May 2015, at the Millennium Gloucester Hotel and Conference Center.

"We are thrilled to build on the success of the first Global Acquiring Conference and to continue offering a premier event for global payments companies to explore business opportunities beyond their current base of operations," said Tom Layman, President of Global Vision Group.

The GAC brings together industry experts and leaders from all regions of the world to tackle issues of importance to acquirers, banks, ISOs, processors and suppliers. "The Global Acquiring Conference will be a valuable opportunity for CEOs and executive management from across the electronic payments spectrum to connect with peers and take on the global issues facing our industry," said Linda Perry.

Rapid innovation in the electronic payments industry is accelerating, especially in the areas of mobile and non-traditional payments technologies. The 2015 GAC theme: International Acquiring the New Frontier will provide a convenient, two-day setting for discussion, learning and networking. The GAC is already shaping up to be a can't-miss event for those who wish to be connected and relevant in the industry. Responses by speakers and sponsors proved that the first GAC held in September 2013 was an enormous success. The GAC is the right event at the right time for the electronic payments industry.
